

Collaborations: Creative Partnerships in Music

Creative partnerships are common, and indeed, essential in music. This conference explores music creativity across all music genres and contexts of production that include famous and infamous collaborations that challenge political, social and artistic conventions. This event brings together musicians, academics and journalists to discuss why partnerships of all kinds are important in musical creativity, what makes them work and why they fail.

Keynote Speakers:

Dr Janine Burke, Monash University; Dr Peter Doyle, Macquarie University

June 4 - 6, 2009

Monash Conference Centre (Days 1 and 2)
Caulfield campus H7.84 (Day 3)
