Docuverse is part of

In February 2017, Docuverse will be hosting Integrating New Technologies. A one-day event to workshop, share, discuss, and critique the role of new technologies in the creation of expanded documentary projects.

We are calling for proposals from people that have tackled questions around technology and documentary from a practice perspective, including those who:

- have made a project
- are in the process of making a project
- could host a workshop/discussion/critique

Docuverse is an ongoing group, meeting bi-monthly.
